The Royal Zoological Society of Scotland (RZSS) strives to inspire and excite our visitors with the wonder of living animals and so to promote the conservation of threatened species and habitats.

We own Edinburgh Zoo and the Highland Wildlife Park, home to over 1,000 animals, the majority of which are part of conservation breeding programmes. Our Education work provides unique learning experiences for visitors and schools and we support conservation and research projects across the globe, including Scotland.

With no direct government funding, we rely on fundraising to further our charitable work to deliver a lasting legacy for future generations to enjoy.
