

PRIZE DRAW

Now that you've finished your tale, solve the bonus riddle to be in with the chance of winning a Giant Lanterns of China goody bag:

I am a lucky colour in China, and also the colour of a bamboo-eating panda - but not a giant one!

ANSWER:

Drop your completed sheet into the postbox in the Gift Shop for your chance to win.

Please fill in all the boxes below in BLOCK CAPITALS

Name:

Tel.:

Email:

Did you enjoy taking part? Yes No

Are you an RZSS Member? Yes No

Please tell us why you did/didn't enjoy it?

What was the most exciting thing you learned during the trail?

See edinburghzoo.org.uk/giant-lanterns for full competition details.

The Giant
Lanterns
of China

FAMILY
TRAIL

TALES BY LANTERN LIGHT

Ancient Chinese stories are full of magic, bravery and mythical creatures.

As you explore the enchanting Giant Lanterns of China, discover how you are part of an incredible tale about saving animals from extinction...

INSTRUCTIONS

1. Find the lanterns marked on the map
2. Complete the eight activities
3. Answer the bonus riddle on the back
4. Post in the gift shop for your chance to win!

Brought to you in partnership with the VYA Creative Lantern Company and DDM Entertainment and Events Inc.
Supported by the Confucius Institute for Scotland.

CONFUCIUS
INSTITUTE FOR SCOTLAND

ONCE UPON A TIME... →

MYSTERIOUS PAST

Tales of magical creatures have echoed through time, and are still told today...

1. Riddles in the Dark

At Chinese festivals, riddles hang from traditional lanterns. Can you solve this one?

Like these lanterns, we are giants from China. Black and white in colour, we like to eat bamboo.

What are we?

3. Spirit Animals

Find the twelve animals of the Zodiac. The year that you were born in is linked to one of the animals. Which one are you?

Year of the...

The dates are under each lantern

4. In the Land of Giants

Can you find the master of all mythical creatures? Draw it here...

It's the biggest lantern in the Zoo

2. The Bird with a Hundred Eyes

Peacocks are said to have magical powers, including being able to see into the future.

Look at the peacocks' tail feathers – how many different coloured eyes do they have?

BRIGHT FUTURE

You're the hero of these next stories as your visit today is helping animals in trouble...

5. A Global Challenge

How many different countries are we currently working on conservation projects in?

6. Back for Good

Which animal have we returned to Scotland after it disappeared 400 years ago?

7. The Burrowing Builder

Giant armadillos create homes for lots of other wildlife. Can you spot these animals in the armadillo burrows?

8. Return of Harmony

How many panda cubs can you spot?

Make sure to walk all the way around the garden...

The number of giant pandas in the wild is starting to increase. Together we are helping to save giant pandas from extinction. Long may they live happily ever after.

THE END

Post your finished trail here

